

From: Cheryl Davis
Sent: Tuesday, July 12, 2005 2:29 PM
To: Dabbs, Paul
Subject: No more dams in Calif.

Given the current state of native fish populations (and for that matter aquatic invertebrates) in the Delta and critical watersheds in Calif., proposing any new dams would be irresponsible. Most scientific research points to water quantity and quality as the most significant factors affecting our suffering fish populations in Calif. We do not have a right to our lifestyles at the expense of any species that happens to get in our way.

Cheryl Davis